COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

TUESDAY EVENING, SEPT. 9.

REUTER'S financial telegram from London of yesterday quotes a further rise of ¼, both in consols and French Rentes, the respective quotations for which are now 101¼ and 108½. The only other change is a decline of 10s. in Mercantile Bank shares which now stand at £18-10.

The Linseed market continues firm in London with a further partial advance of 3d. per quarter in Calcutta qualities. Rapeseed is unchanged. Wheat is still flat and London arrival quotations show a decline of 9d. in No. 1 club and 3d. per quarter in No. 2 club, Calcutta.

The London Skin sales opened yesterday with 1,150,000 goat and 1,850,000 sheep skins offered. Reuter reports an irregular market, full prices being obtained for goat skins with the exception of common and medium qualities which were ¼d. to 1d. per lb. lower.

COTTON in Liverpool yesterday was steady, the sales being 10,000 bales, including 1,000 Surats. In ready quotations the only change is an advance of 1-16d. in Good Broach, whilst arrivals are also unaltered except Americans for October-November delivery which come 1s.-64d. higher.

In New York ready Mid-Uplands are still quoted at 10¼ cents., but futures are 5 points lower again at 10·52 cents. for December. The receipts no doubt account for this, the figures for Monday being the first of any importance this season. As regards the future course of the market, however, we shall have a more reliable guide in the Washington Agricultural Bureau's report which will be published to-morrow.

	1884	1883	1882
Two days' Receipts	8,000	11,200	16,600
Three do. do.	12,000	17,400	29,300
Total Since 1st Sept.	28,000	40,600	58,000

There has been nothing at all doing in the staple here to-day. As usual when American future come lower the tendency is slightly easier, and for new crops a partial reduction of Re. 1 per candy is quoted, but old stocks are held for previous rates.

WHEAT is flat and unchanged in value.

LINSEED is firm at Rs. 5-15 to Rs. 6 per cwt.

FREIGHTS exhibit no sign of improvement. Business is said to have been done again in one of the liners for Liverpool at 13s. 9d. for Wheat and 17s. 6d. to 20s. remain the quotations for steamers loading for continental ports. Forward there is no enquiry whatever.

IMPORTS are steady, but generally without change.

LOCAL yarns are very dull, and the off-take is considerably behind the production. Dealers not only hold aloof from fresh purchases, but take delivery very slowly under former contracts and stocks are gradually increasing.

EXCHANGE has been a shade easier to-day, inasmuch as the one bank which was drawing demand yesterday at 1s. 7¼d. has declined to go on at the rate whilst private paper could also be placed on rather better terms. Very little has been done, and we again await the biddings for Councils in London to-morrow to afford the key to the course of the market for the coming week. We quote at the close to-day :—

Bank Bills on demand	1s. 7 17-32d.	per rupee.
Do. Telegraph	1s. 7 7-16d.	"
Do. Three months' sight	1s. 7 19-32d.	"
Credits do.	do. 1s. 7 21-32d to 11-16d.	"
France do.	do. 2·01	"

GOVERNMENT PAPER has been weaker again. During the day Fours were quoted at Rs. 99 7-16, but in the afternoon business was done as low as Rs. 99 5-16 for cash and Rs. 99 3-16 for 30th September delivery. Fours-and-a-half per cent. we quote at Rs. 102 to ½.

SHARES.—The depression in Mill shares has again increased, and a further general decline is quoted. Anglo-Indians are Rs. 2 lower at Rs. 110. Manockjee Petits are down to Rs. 330, and Orientals to Rs. 590. Forbes Co.'s shares are Rs. 25 lower at Rs. 490. The miscellaneous list shows no definite change, but the late improvement in Cash Bazaars seems rather to have brought out sellers.

DEFECTIVE OR FAILING SIGHT.

THE sense of sight is so valuable that the importance of perfect and carefully adjusted spectacles can scarcely be overrated ; although the wearing of single eye-glasses should be strictly avoided, we have the highest medical authority, confirmed by daily experience, that imperfect glasses, together with the haphazard plan of selection generally employed, are frequent causes of irremediable injury to the sight ; and as no present economy can compensate for such a loss, it behoves all to be cautious how they are tempted to use the common pebble or glass spectacles now so generally sold.

For the guidance of those who are using pebble spectacles, it may be stated that when the pebbles are cut against the grain, and not polished on the principle which has been universally declared the most appropriate based on scientific research, they are injurious to the sight.

Unadvisable as the unnecessary wearing of spectacles undoubtedly is, the common notion that their use should be postponed to the utmost is proved beyond dispute to be a grave mistake.

Being in possession of all the optical instruments taken over by us from Dr. A. Meinst, we are not only in a position to suit the eye sight to perfection, but to supply different accommodations for each eye which so frequently are needed.

The Bombay Gazette

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1884.

DR. NACHTIGAL and his gunboat Moewe have once more put themselves in evidence. The German flag has been hoisted at four different points of what we must now call the disputed territory on the south-west coast of Africa, immediately contiguous to what was till recently the most northern part of the territory of Cape Colony. The strip of territory in question is marked on the maps as a desert coast, and it seems to have entered nobody's head to claim it or think it worth annexing until Prince Bismarck inquired whether the British Government claimed Angra Pequena, which is situated about half way between the Cape Colony limits and Walfisch Bay, a few miles north of the Tropic of Capricorn. The territory in question, which seems to lack a name, extends from the Orange River, bounding the old Cape dominion, to the Portuguese boundary—a distance of some eight degrees. The Germans have now annexed this coast-line, with the exception of Walfisch Bay. Consul-General Nachtigal proceeded to Angra Pequena in August, and there proclaimed the territory between the Orange River and the Portuguese boundary on the north to be German. Evidently this proclamation has now been translated into action by taking possession of the territory, which was so lately declared British. The eighty-mile breadth of territory which has been annexed with the coast-line is marked off from the interior by a range of mountains separating it from the Damarrah country.

Thus the steps which have led to this unfortunate complication are clear. When Prince Bismarck asked whether Her Majesty's Government had any claim upon Angra Pequena, the answer was somewhat tardily given, after consultation with the Cape Government, that Great Britain did not regard it as part of the territory of Cape Colony. The delay of six or eight months which occurred in making the declaration undoubtedly produced a certain amount of irritation in Germany. But what appears to have angered the "German Michael" was the immediate steps which the Cape Government took to annex all the territory along that coast, excepting Angra Pequena. This was done, according to the German view, to prevent Angra Pequena from becoming of any use to them, by interposing a barrier of Cape territory between it and the tribes in the interior. The Cape Government appear to have actually occupied only Walfisch Bay, considerably to the north of Angra Pequena, but the whole territory was proclaimed to be British. The bay in question is a natural harbour, some twenty miles from north to south, and has been many years a resort for whale fishers bound for the southern seas. The occupation of Walfisch Bay would not in itself, it was explained in some of the German semi-official papers, have been regarded as a blow at German colonisation, but it was the claim to the whole territory which was serious. If Cape Colony sought really to annex all south-west Africa except Angra Pequena, then, in the words of the National Zeitung, "such annexation will not be binding on a third party, and Germany will especially have to oppose that step, the intention of which was evidently to cut off the possibility of any expansion of the colony of Angra Pequena." The special organ of Prince Bismarck subsequently reproduced this statement as expressing the view of the matter held by the German Foreign Office. We have here, then, the explanation of the unpleasant item in to day's telegraphic news: Germany has not only "opposed" our annexation of the territory in question, but she has herself taken possession of it. It will be difficult for Prince Bismarck to show that our right to the territory is not as good as his own, and better, seeing that we had actually done what he apparently had no desire to do until he learned that we had annexed it. It is impossible that we can permit Germany to haul down our flag when she has no better claim to the territory she covets than that of being later in the race than we were for its possession. Does any one suppose that when we similarly outstripped the French in securing New Zealand and the Island of Perim, we would have tolerated the hauling down of our flag in either place by a French gunboat? In truth, Prince Bismarck is presuming too much on his maritime weakness. That the Germans should desire to appropriate their share of the waste places of Western Africa is natural enough ; there is no reason why they should not join in the general scramble which is now going on for the few remaining scraps of the unappropriated surface of a planet which is rapidly becoming too small for its destinies. But they should blame themselves, and not their rivals, if they are not always as prompt as they might be. They must learn to recognise the right of prior possession. They may find it dangerous in the extreme to substitute for that right an exhibition of force and a high-handed disregard for the susceptibilities of other nations. There is a good deal of room yet in Western Africa for the establishment of colonies on more fruitful sites than that of Angra Pequena or even Walfisch Bay. In laying his scientific hand upon the Cameroons, Dr. Nachtigal has secured an acquisition which is likely to prove of much more value than a mere strip of desert in the immediate neighbourhood of Cape Colony. Several German houses were already established there, and a regular trade was carried on by means of a line of steamers coming from Hamburg. The German papers make no mention of the violation of British rights in that region, but reserving that consideration it may be admitted that the Germans have in this instance acquired a useful colony. The Cameroon mountains, which come down almost to the coast-line, may be expected to provide a sanitarium which will enable the settlers to brave the usual fatality of the African climate. A French paper very sensibly points out to the Germans that, with such a position as the Cameroons, Angra Pequena and the sterile coast around are not worth fretting about.

IN an article in the August number of the Nineteenth Century, Miss Agnes Lambert makes a very earnest endeavour to draw attention to a subject which, though now unfortunately viewed with but little interest by the generality of the people, was in the old Scriptural days considered one of vital importance. The terrible disease of leprosy with all its hideous surroundings is thought by so many to be but a thing of the remote past, that it is of the utmost consequence that they should wake to the knowledge of its baneful presence amongst us, especially as very few seem to have any idea of the extent of its destructive force. Therefore, considering the importance of the question to humanity, we think that no feeling of an over-sensitive delicacy should stand in the way of the removal of the veil from all its naked hideousness. "Were I to describe it," says Miss Lambert, "no one would follow me. More cruel than the clumsy torturing weapons of old, it distorts and scars, and hacks, and maims, and destroys its victim inch by inch, feature by feature, member by member, joint by joint, sense by sense, leaving him to cumber the earth, and tell the horrid tale of a living death till there is nothing human left of him." The remainder of this realistic description is so terrifying that we omit it, and we could fain hope that it errs on the side of exaggeration. No wonder that in the olden days both religious and civil law concerned itself with the treatment of such a disease in order to check its development. It was "the great disease of medicæval Christendom," as is testified by the numerous lazar-houses that owed their existence either to public or private charity. That in modern times the question does not receive the attention it once did, is undoubtedly due to the notion that prevails even in medical circles of the incommunicability of the disease by contagion. And it is principally to warn Englishmen in particular against the ill-effects of this mischievous belief that Miss Lambert takes up her pen. She brings, we think, conclusive evidence to show that the segregation of lepers, if it be not made compulsory by legislation, is a measure which demands support as being the only rational means of checking leprosy in "its fearful course of corruption and mutilation." But even if the theory of the non-contagiousness of the disease be true, we should think that a sufficient case can be made out for the isolation and careful treatment of sufferers. The movement which was set on foot in Bombay, some time ago, for the foundation of a leper asylum might now well be revived. The successful establishment of such an asylum here will lead to the adoption of similar measures all over India. For, in the words of the Report on Leprosy issued in 1867 by the Royal College of Physicians, "India continues to be, as it has been for ages, one of the principal seats of leprosy in the world."

It is principally to this Report that Miss Lambert is indebted for the facts embodied in her article, though she takes exception to certain conclusions arrived at therein, which she tries to disprove by bringing to bear on the question evidence collected at a period subsequent to the issuing of the Report. The origin of this Report was the suggestion made in 1862 by Governor Walker of the Windward Islands to the Secretary of State for the Colonies that bearing in mind the rapid increase of this fearful malady, it was advisable to collect all the information obtainable on the subject and submit it for report to a competent medical body. Acting upon this humane suggestion, the aid of the Royal College of Physicians was obtained. A committee appointed by this body forthwith prepared a list of interrogatories to be sent to all the colonies of the empire with a view to elicit "the extent of leprosy ; the character and outward manifestations of it ; the circumstances of its appearance ; its nature, i. e., whether or not communicable by transmission from parent to child or by contagion ; whether or not curable ; the social and legal treatment of lepers ; the public hospital provision made for them ; and the medical and hygieuic treatment of them." The inquiry resulted in the bringing forth of a mass of evidence of a contradictory nature. However, in spite of many distinctively affirmative answers to the question relating to the contagious nature of leprosy, "a larger number of data of a negative character were allowed to outweigh the fewer of a positive, and the strongly expressed opinion of the committee against the compulsory segregation of lepers was acted on by the Government." But the question has not been considered to have been settled once for all, and since the issue of the Report the attention of various Colonial Governments has been devoted to this subject. Fresh investigations have led to a considerable modification of the opinion held by many medical men about the contagiousness of leprosy. And to this Dr. Vandyke Carter, who is considered the greatest living authority on the subject, has contributed not a little. His views have been founded upon personal observations in North Italy, the Greek Archipelago, Palestine, parts of the Bombay Presidency, and especially in Norway, which, as he says, offers a brilliant illustration of the utility of leper asylums in stamping out the disease. In an official Report submitted by him in 1876 to the Secretary of State for India, which is of very great importance to us, he draws attention to the prevalence of the disease in Bombay, and the danger that exists for the European population of catching the contagion, and he expresses his surprise at the comparative immunity which they have hitherto enjoyed. But it is undoub

THE Government of Bombay have found it necessary to interfere in the matter of a decision given at the High Court in May last by Mr. Justice Bayley and Mr. Justice Pinhey. On the 8th March last Mr. Manekshah Jehangirshah, on behalf of Bai Amrit, widow, presented a petition to Mr. Justice Bayley and Mr. Justice Pinhey at the High Court, praying that, as their lordships had rejected the petitioner's claim, on the ground that the value of the property was more than Rs. 5,000, and that the second-class subordinate judge of Jambusar had no jurisdiction to try the suit, the plaint might be returned to her for presentation to the proper court. Mr. Manekshah based his application on a judgment in another case, in which a full bench, consisting of Sir Charles Sargent, Chief Justice, Mr. Justice Kemball, and Mr. Justice West, had decided that where, after a trial had begun or even after it had concluded, it appeared that the court had no jurisdiction to hear the case, the plaint should be returned, in order that it might be presented to the proper court, and that no additional court fees were payable. Mr. Justice Bayley and Mr. Justice Pinhey reserved their decision until they had seen the judgment of the full bench. Having done so, their lordships, on the 9th May last, delivered their judgment on Mr. Manekshah's application. They declined to follow the decision of the full bench, and refused the application. They held that that decision did not govern, and was distinguishable from cases in which there had been decrees passed on the plaint, as in Bai Amrit's case; and that the practice on the Original Side of the High Court of Bombay had always been to return a plaint unless it had been returned on presentation. They questioned whether a ruling of three judges of the High Court, on a case referred by a division bench of two judges for decision by the full bench, could be regarded otherwise than as a ruling of a division bench of three judges. This divergence of opinion between a full bench of three judges of the High Court on one side, and of a division bench of two judges on the other, could not fail to attract the notice of the higher authorities. Some confidential correspondence, we hear, passed between the Chief Justice and Government on the subject. As far as Bai Amrit is concerned, Government have just informed Mr. Manekshah that the Collector of Bombay has been instructed to give his client credit for Rs. 267—the value of the stamps affixed to her plaint which Mr. Justice Bayley and Mr. Justice Pinhey refused to return to her—in the purchase of fresh stamps for the purpose of presenting a new plaint to the proper court. The decision of Mr. Justice Bayley and Mr. Justice Pinhey has been thus practically upset, and it is reported that a short Act will be passed by the Legislature, enacting that a court consisting of three judges of the High Court should be regarded as constituting a full bench.

A CORRESPONDENT writes to us from Jubbulpore that over sixty inches of rain have fallen there, and that the country all around has been saturated, much to the injury of the young crops. The rains have continued more or less since the 17th June, and at present there are no signs of a cessation. The alterations and additions to Christ Church, which were begun a few months ago, have been stopped till after the rains.

AN occasional correspondent writes to us from Banda:—"Drugging children seems to be practised to a great extent by ayahs in the North-West. The other day the Collector made a severe example of an ayah, by sentencing her to nine months' rigorous imprisonment, for drugging with opium a European infant aged two months. The woman confessed her guilt, and stated that she had regularly drugged the child for eight days. On the eighth day she gave him an overdose which made him sleep for forty-eight hours, her object being to have more leisure.

MR. T. E. ELLISON, C. ., Officiating Deputy Commissioner of Bundara in the Central Provinces, has obtained three months' privilege leave. Mr. H. H. Priest, C.S., officiates for him. Mr. T. C. Wilson, C.S., Assistant Commissioner, Nagpore, has been transferred to Hoshangabad. Mr. D. G. Meiklejohn, C.S., has succeeded Lieut.-Col. H. C. E. Ward as Deputy Commissioner of the Raipore district.

MISS ISA HOY, Superintendent of the Female Normal School at Jubbulpore, has been obliged to take sick leave for a year. Miss L. Lawson has charge during her absence.

UP to Saturday 150½ inches of rain fell at Lanowlee this monsoon, and 131½ at Egutpoora.

IT is stated that the Finaucial Department have concurred in the recommendation for an increase to the Calcutta High Court Bench. The matter now goes home to the Secretary of State.

THE Allahabad paper learns by telegraph from Rindli that all difficulties about transport for the Afghan Boundary Commission have disappeared. The camp forms at Quetta, and not at Mach as had previously been arranged.

THE offices will break up at Simla on November 8, about a week earlier than last year. The Viceroy will probably leave about a fortnight before. His Excellency's plans for the autumn tour are not positively settled, but it is believed that they will take in a visit to Central India.

IT is stated that demi-official news has been received at Simla that Sir Thomas Baker will succeed Sir George Greaves, as Adjutant-General of the Army next month. Recent private letters make no further reference to General Baker's state of health as likely to prevent the arrangement. Before his departure from Simla, Sir George Greaves will be entertained at a dinner and a ball.

AT Kandahar the Ameer has, it is stated, issued a proclamation that Englishmen are going to travel through Afghanistan. Whoever shows them or their servants any hostility, or attempts to plunder their luggage, will be severely punished.

A MEETING is to be held at Meerut during the race week to consider the question of establishing a Turf Club for Northern India. The Lucknow Express warmly supports the movement, and thinks that once the club has been established and recognised by the Western India and the Calcutta Turf Clubs, the matter of pony measurement will cease to be a "source of hardship to owners all over Upper India." "Representatives from the Northern India Turf Club," it is remarked, "will be able to measure ponies at the head-quarters of the Club, or at the principal race meetings, and such measurements will be final for animals over five years. There are scores of other subjects that will occur to every racing man which demand such an institution in our midst, and most of which are reasons against our continued dependence on the remote tribunal at Calcutta. The racing interests in Upper India, comprising an area extending from Peshawur to Upper Bengal in one direction, and from Kurachee to Jubbulpore in an easterly, are of far greater magnitude than those of Bengal proper and of Western India. Indeed, there are only three meetings in each year held under the Western India Turf Club. Once the Northern India Turf Club is formed, it will be found that adherents to its rule will flock from the whole tract of country of which we have named the four 'cardinal' points, and it will come to be regarded in a very brief period as the principal Turf Club in India. Its success will of course depend much on the body of stewards that are elected to guide its destinies."

A NATIVE paper published in Calcutta professes to have heard from a reliable source that the Lieutenant-Governor contemplates removing Mr. Harrison from the Municipality, and appointing him to the Commissionership of the Presidency Division, and that Mr. Buckland or Mr. Westmacott will take Mr. Harrison's place in the Municipality. The same paper tells us further [illegible]pson has written to His Excellency [illegible]the present Municipal controversy, [illegible]mmended an amendment of the [illegible], to provide for the return of a larger [illegible]nglish Commissioners to the Board, [illegible]son does not believe that the work [illegible]pality can be carried on successfully [illegible]the native element predominates so [illegible]in.

[illegible]utta correspondent, telegraphing on the [illegible] gave a gloomy account of the state of [illegible]s parts of Beerbhoom. Hazaribagh does not appear to be any better off. A correspondent of the Statesman writes:—

Hazaribagh is peculiarly unfortunate this year. The rainfall has been very scanty, and augurs ill for the crops. Famine is actually here upon us while I write, and dacoits, thieves, and beggars have increased as a matter of course. Your Ranchi correspondent is quite correct in what he says about the condition of the people, and several cases of death from starvation have come to light. Unfortunately, too, the health of the town is far from satisfactory. Fever has been very prevalent, and to complete our misery, cholera has broken out within the last ten days.

THE Pioneer delivers itself with vigour and emphasis on the subject of the Gilchrist scholarships, in regard to which Mr. F. T. Atkins, the "working men's delegate," has been indulging in some very excited English in various parts of the country, declaring that the Government of India had been "guilty of sacrilege, as they had altered a dead man's bequest," by the exclusion of domiciled Europeans from competition for the scholarships. "It has been shown conclusively in our columns," says the Allahabad paper, "not only that the Government had no control over the matter—a private matter in the hands of certain trustees of the London University—although it acted as an intermediary in forwarding the memorials complaining of the injustice, but that the injustice itself had absolutely ceased to exist. The position, in its manifold aspects, of the domiciled European and his Eurasian compatriot is one of Imperial concern, although as yet Imperial authority has failed to grasp the fact in all its ominous reality. But if no good cause was ever helped in the long run by association with a lie, few good ones have failed to suffer from it. And it is therefore that we protest against a policy of a kind which, if bound to alienate public sympathy with all its potential influences in the way of practical reform, Mr. Atkins' profession is understood to be that of a paid agitator, but agitation more often than not is turned to questionable uses, and of this Mr. Atkins with no case has furnished a sufficient illustration. The cost of assisting him to unmerited attention to which we have unwillingly contributed, must be reckoned with his employers."

THE grounding of the Sir William Peel at the mouth of the Matabhanga, where, according to a Calcutta paper, she is likely to remain for the next eleven months, has necessitated the Government chartering the India General steamer Lahore to tow the troop-flats to Cachar. The Lahore left Calcutta on Friday for Goalundo, and will arrive there on Tuesday. "Blue Jacket," writing to a local paper, asks a very pertinent question as to the economy of Government having to charter a private steamer, when one of their own vessels lay moored off the dockyard that might have been manned and despatched to the Peel's assistance a week ago. "But with the Director of Marine at Bombay, who has to take his instructions from the Military Department at Simla," the Indian Daily News remarks by way of comment, "the responsibility of thus saving the country an expenditure of twenty or thirty thousand rupees could not be assumed by an Officiating Deputy."

THE following were the balances held in cash in the civil treasuries of the Government of India and at credit of Government in the Presidency Banks and their branches on the last day of August:—1882, Rs. 14,03,17,000; 1883, Rs. 12,91,01,000; 1884, Rs. 10,75,13,000.

THE value of gold imported to this country during the first four months of the current financial year was Rs. 2,30,52,062, and of that exported Rs. 23,991, whilst the value of silver imported was Rs. 3,29,24,102, and of that exported Rs. 68,68,272. This leaves the value of both metals in favour of imports at Rs. 4,90,83,901.

FROM the accounts of the trade and navigation of British India for the first four months of the current financial year as compared with those of the corresponding period of last year, it appears that the value of merchandize imported was Rs. 17,95,51,683 as compared with Rs. 17,11,64,593, while the value of merchandize exported was Rs. 29,76,25,640 as against Rs. 32 31,69,199. The value of treasure imported was Rs. 5,59,76,164 as against Rs. 4,02,36,968, and that of treasure exported Rs. 68,92,263 as against Rs. 31,57,968. The gross amount of import duty collected, including salt duty, was Rs. 78,16,839 as against Rs. 74,50,134, and that of export duty collected Rs. 19,34,117 as against Rs. 26,43,866.

A CORRESPONDENT writes to us:—All work on the Jhansi-Manickpore State Railway has been suspended. Should work not be resumed ere long, Government will lose a few lakhs of rupees. For the past two months the engineers and subs. have simply been doing nothing. Even Mr. La Touche, the Engineer-in-Chief, does not know what will be the ultimate decision in regard to the line. The embankment for the whole line (180 miles) is nearly completed. All the bungalows erected for the engineers, subs. and others, at a cost of nearly a lakh of rupees, will be useless should this line be abandoned. Several bridges were begun, but now the foundations are covered with silt. A short line of about forty-two miles from Cawnpore to Calpi has been commenced.

A DIAMOND of no less than 457 carats has, it is stated, been shipped from South Africa and sold by a City firm to a syndicate of diamond merchants. Th colour equals, if not excels, that of the finest Indian diamonds, and in the opinion of competent judges it will cut to a perfect and lustrous brilliant. In drop shape it will weigh as nearly as can be estimated about 220 carats, or in lozenge shape, briolette, about 300 carats. The brilliant will therefore exceed in weight all the historical diamonds. The Koh-i-noor weighs 106 carats, the Regent of France 136 carats, and the Orloff, which was cut for weight, 195 carats. In size, colour, purity, and quality, it is expected to prove to be the most marvellous stone ever known.

THE Russian naval manœuvres, according to the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Standard, began somewhat disastrously for the defending force. The enemy's fleet being concentrated at Baerksund, on the Finnish coast, between Cronstadt and Transund, where the Russian squadron had assembled, the Vladimir Monomakh, the new armoured ship of the Alexandra type and the pride of the Russian Navy, left Cronstadt on Friday to join her consorts down the Gulf. On the way, however, she was intercepted by the enemy in overwhelming strength, and, according to the Admiral's decision, was considered to be placed horse de combat, and was ordered to take no further part in the manœuvres. But this not suiting the temper of her captain, he, when part of the hostile force went out to reconnoitre, slipped his cable and, although repeatedly blown up by torpedo-boats and again sunk by the returning enemy, went at full speed ahead and got clean away.

A TERRIBLE tale of a "Modern Mazeppa" comes from distant Omaha. Not long ago a "bronco," "broken down as if from long running," with a naked and senseless man tied to his back, was observed careering over the plain, and "easily lassoed" by the cowboys of M. Boussand, of North-Western Nebraska. Mazeppa was then untied and taken to M. Boussand's ranche, where he lay "in a stupor" for a fortnight. At the end of that time he came to himself and told his pitiful story. He is a native of Falmouth, and his other name is Henry Burbank, and he went to Nebraska three years ago to rear cattle in partnership with a fellow-townsman named Wilson. Being "a handsome young fellow," he had the indiscretion to spend his time, while Wilson was looking after the cattle, in flirting with Mrs. Wilson. Wilson eventually discovered this treachery, and with the aid of his men caught the bronco, tied Burbank upon it, and started him off. His involuntary ride lasted no less than a week, during all which time, of course, he had no food or shelter. But the painful incident is not yet concluded. "When fully restored to health Burbank proposes to make a visit of retaliation to Wilson, and in this, it is said, he will be backed." We trust that when Wilson, in his turn, is "backed," it will not be upon the same bronco, which ought now to be excused from carrying any more Mazeppas.

THE FLOODS AND THE RAILWAYS.

IN consequence of the interruption of the traffic on the B. B. and C. I. line between Surat and Broach, and the consequent non-arrival of the Punjab and Simla mails, it was yesterday found necessary to postpone the departure in the afternoon of the mail-steamer Peshawur. Although the damage is not of a very serious character, it appears that the floods have broken the line in two places, there being at the present time a break on either side of the Koem and Panoli stations. These are respectively 181 and 191 miles from Bombay, and the up mail to this city was of necessity brought to a stand-still at the more distant point, between Panoli and Unclesur, not many miles from Broach. Arrangements were at once made for bringing on the mails by conveying them in lorries across the intervening space, but it was anticipated that only those passengers whose cases were urgent and who might be due in Bombay for the outgoing steamer would be able to accompany the letters. The relief train reached Bombay about midnight yesterday, having left Surat at 6·25 p.m. The line has also suffered injury south of Surat, where the new earthwork has slipped, and the traffic usually carried over the double line system is reduced to a single line. The down mail which left Bombay on Monday night, and which was conveying the chief officers of the line to the scene of the more serious interruption, was stopped at Surat until the flood in the Taptee had subsided. At ten o'clock yesterday morning just over forty feet of flood was reported in this river, and from the Nerbudda, which is crossed at Broach, intelligence was received that the stream had only begun to alienate public sympathy with all its potential influences in the way of practical reform. Mr. Atkins' profession is understood to be that of a paid agitator, but agitation more often than not is turned to questionable uses, and of this Mr. Atkins with no case has furnished a sufficient illustration. The cost of assisting him to unmerited attention to which we have unwillingly contributed, must be reckoned with his employers."

With regard to the portion of the G. I. P. line washed away by the Bookree river, boats were on the first day employed to bring the Bengal mails and passengers across, and these reached Bombay during Monday night. The arrangements for meeting the difficulties of the traffic were, however, pushed forward with such success that yesterday's mails reached Boreebunder only two hours behind the usual time of their daily arrival.

Mr. C. A. Stuart the Presidency Postmaster, issued the following notice in the course of the day:—"The departure of the English mail-steamer has been postponed to to-morrow morning, owing to detention of the Punjab and Simla mails in transit by rail. Ordinary letters and newspapers will be received at the General Post Office up to 3 p.m., registered letters up to 7 p. m.

The mails were brought to Colaba by a light train at midnight, and were immediately transferred to the Peshawar, which was lying off the Apollo-bunder. No passengers were brought on by the train which arrived with the mails.

Most of the passengers were left at Sayan beyond Surat, and some at Unclesur, three stations beyond Sayan. The line being washed away and the floods high, it was impossible to bring them on, and it they may probably have to remain where they are for a couple of days. It was a matter of great difficulty to get the mails through. Mr. Sleater, the Engineer of the line, and Mr. Duxbury, the Traffic Manager, are working hard to repair damages.

SURAT, SEPT. 9.

The river rose up to midnight of the 8th to within three feet of its highest register. It has fallen slightly during to-day, and now stands about two feet off the topping of the parapet near the Castle in the public gardens. The lower parts of the city in many places are inundated, the depth of water at the Wariav gate reaching to the tops of one-storeyed dwellings.

THE MONSOON.

"MOUNTAINEER" writes to us from Mount Abu:—My expectation as to the character of this ninth year's rainfall, which I have held for seven years past, is being fully, or more than fully, realized, as up to 7 p. m. yesterday the total fall registered for the season was 91·40 inches, which has since been slightly exceeded. Up to the 13th ultimo the total fall here was 56 inches, but after a week's break a change in the direction of the wind, as usual, brought a change in the weather, and it began to rain again on the 20th, and has been raining almost daily until now, at the average rate of 2·67 inches—the total fall, 18·56 inches, having been registered between 4 p. m. on the 1st and 4 p. m. on the 2nd instant. From about 9 p.m. until midnight, last night, however, the dense fog having been dispelled by northerly breezes, the rupon shone out brightly and a good break in the weather seemed to have set in at last; but to-day the fogs are as dense as before, the wind having veered back to N.S.W., the weather looks as unsettled again, and raining as hard as it usually does about the beginning of August, while the fall for the season, up to date, has reached a higher figure than that registered to the corresponding date in any previous season during the past twenty years—higher even than that of 1875, when the total for the season was 110·30 inches, of which 50·90 fell in the latter part of September. I think then that there is good ground to fear that the short falls of 1883 and 1877 may be repeated in 1884, just as the heavy falls of 1882 and 1875 are being repeated at present. Perhaps an examination of the records of 1856 and 1876 would show that the areas most affected by barometric depression or semi-cyclonic disturbances are usually the same as those so affected this season; and it might be found that the absence or lightness of such disturbances had led to the scantiness of the rainfalls of 1883 and 1877, over the same, or nearly the same areas as those covered by the heavy rains two years earlier in each case. If so, it would, I think, go far to show what may be expected in the same parts of India in 1885.

The Runn river at Kharari—Abu-road station—where it has its broadest and shallowest ford in this locality, has been of late so high that the mails, after long delays, could only be got across to and from the railway station, sometimes on elephants and sometimes on a raft, after the river had fallen several feet on each occasion. Travellers have been put to inconvenience by having to wait on either side of the river until they could get themselves and their luggage across; and a few natives have been swept away and drowned by the sudden rising of the flood whilst crossing it, while a lady and one or two of her children had just crossed the river on Monday last, when it began to rise so suddenly that her European maid and another child, who reached it from Mount Abu a little later, could not cross it till the flood had gone down again, and the mail-train had left for Ahmedabad, the lady fortunately arriving a little too soon, and her maid a little too late, to be caught by the rapidly rising current. It may be hoped that the new and energetic Superintending Engineer, who, as Executive Engineer, has greatly improved the gradient of what was by far the most difficult and worst part of the road leading down to the railway, may be able to crown his work by bridging the river, and rendering it passable for ordinary traffic at all times, whilst enabling visitors to leave the hill without difficulty, as well as to ascend it whenever they may desire a change of climate, or wish to see its grand waterfalls, &c., during the heavy rains. A sound girder bridge on masonry piers could be erected, at comparatively small cost, about a mile above the Kharari ford or about two or three miles below it, at a point where the river has a much narrower and rocky bed, and high rocky banks which confine it and render it favourable for bridging.

THE WIFE MURDER.

THE adjourned inquest was resumed yesterday by the Coroner, Dr. Blaney, at his bungalow, Clare-road, Byculla, into the circumstances connected with the death of Devkee, the woman who on the morning of the 8th inst. was found lying murdered in a room in one of the out-houses in Government House compound at Parell which she occupied with her husband Janoo Dhondee, a tent-lascar employed at Government House. Some further police evidence having been taken as to the finding of the body and the subsequent arrest of the husband, Dr. Sidney Smith deposed to the appearance of the corpse. He found a wound on the right side of the neck, nearly three inches long, completely dividing the muscles and large blood-vessels on that side of the neck. There was also a wound on the middle finger of the left hand. The wounds could not have been self-inflicted. The jury, after a short deliberation, returned a verdict of culpable homicide against Janoo Dhondee, the husband of the deceased. He was yesterday charged with the murder

CAUTION.

UNREMITTING thought and labour are bestowed upon a speciality. It is, after great care and exceeding difficulty, crowned with success; when lo! immediately there arise swarms of imitations resembling the original closely enough to deceive the Public, and yet not so exactly as to infringe upon legal rights. These imitators, not having, perhaps, the means, or the experience, or the intelligence to push an honest article independently to the notice of the Public, are content to wait and look out for successful experiments by others, and then to adopt the semblance of such, and style these spurious productions the "original" or the "genuine" article. A better illustration of this cannot be cited than the famous case of Johann Maria Farina's Eau-de-Cologne. As soon as it became known that this justly celebrated Perfume commanded the market, the country was scoured for all the Farinas that could be found, they were brought to Cologne, and paid for the use of their name to push spurious articles into the market, styled the genuine Eau-de-Cologne of Farina!!

In 1864, for the first time, SCHIEDMAYER and SOEHNE'S Pianos were introduced into India. After careful observation and constant practical experiment we discovered the qualities necessary for making this marvel of cheapness and excellence suitable for the Indian Climate As soon as the necessary alterations and additions were made to these instruments, we caused an ivory medallion to be inserted over the name of the makers, and on this is stated that these Pianos are "Built expressly for the Indian Climate by order of C. Marcks and Co., Bombay and Poona." Without this we can guarantee none to be genuine.

The fame of these Pianos had scarcely gone abroad, when in came imitations promising everything, and leaving the unfortunate purchasers to find out the good qualities after purchase.

All who have tried our Pianos declare them perfection. We can guarantee Perfection only if the Instruments pass through our hands.

The most superb Pianos in outward appearance, interior construction, tone, touch, and repeating action can be seen at our Depot of

SCHIEDMAYER and SOEHNE'S Pianos,
Opposite the University Clock Tower.

☞ See that you ask for, and more especially that you get, SCHIEDMAYER and SOEHNE'S Pianos. We can guarantee no other genuine.
